Microsoft Cloud Executive Enablement Series

New episodes focus on AI, Industry, and Enterprise Applications

We're happy to announce the launch of Series 3 and 4 of the Microsoft Cloud Executive Enablement Series. This video and podcast series first debuted in May 2023, granting partners exclusive access to insights from top executives and experts at Microsoft around the latest trends and technologies in the cloud industry.

Series 3 looks closer at the value and potential created by AI and enterprise applications. Series 4 then dives into the AI opportunity that exists across priority industries: manufacturing, retail, healthcare, and more. All this content helps guide partners in understanding the extensive scope, profound depth, and advantageous business opportunities presented by Microsoft AI and Cloud solutions.

New episodes will go live each Wednesday, starting January 10 through mid-April. As always, each episode will be available in video and podcast format. Please watch each episode or listen and share with your teams and partners.

Partner Academy

Microsoft offers a wealth of partner programs, resources, and campaign tools that help partners uncover new sales opportunities, reach new customers, and expand their business.

Partner Academy is here to connect the dots between those programs, help navigate through multiple resources, and allow partners to have richer conversations with their customers! The Academy will focus on simplifying the complexity of key programs, streamlining go-to-market opportunities, and accelerating sales engagement and support from Microsoft.
